A Little of Everything.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Swartz, Jan. 24, 1905, a daughter. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Albright, January 21, 1905, a son. The Masons expect to hold a banquet in Frank's Pavilion February 16. Andrew Kaul, one of St. Mary's wealthy and prominent citizens, died in Philadelphia Monday. A number of Daughters of Rebekah of this place visited the Falls Creek Rebekah lodge Friday evening. Presbyterian mid-week prayer meeting will be held at home of M. H. Sikes in West Reynoldsville to-night. Republican primary election in Winslow township next Saturday, January 28, from 2.00 p. m. to 8.00 p. m. There will be an oyster supper in the Paradise Grange hall on Wednesday evening of next week, February 1st. Misses Georgia and Sara Corbett entertained the "Smart Set" at their home on Main street last Friday evening. The regular meeting of the Mothers' Club will be held on next Friday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock in the library of school building. All girls are angels, to be sure. There is no dispute about that. But where do the devilish wives come from?—Punxsutawney Spirit. A sled load of Baptist ladies drove to DuBois Friday evening and attended the revival meeting in the Baptist church of that town. Daughters of Rebekah from Brookville and Lindsey visited the Rebekah Lodge in this place last evening. Lunch was served in the lodge room. M. W. Kavanaugh and Laura V. S. Pillsbury, both of Sykesville, were married by Squire E. Neff at his residence on Hill street Monday afternoon of this week, January 23, 1905. Joseph R. Milliron, clerk at the Jefferson Supply Company store, sprained his right ankle so badly on Tuesday of last week that he was not able to work a couple of days. Saturday was a good day for sleighing parties. Two loads of Reynoldsville school children drove to DuBois and two sled loads of school children from Brookville visited Reynoldsville. It was one year ago last Friday since David C. Whitehill began the publication of the Falls Creek Herald. The Herald has been prosperous under his management and is a good weekly paper.

A large delegation from the Reynoldsville Protected Home Circle went to Sykesville last Friday night and assisted District Deputy D. W. Atwater to install new officers in the Sykesville Circle for the ensuing year.

Three sled loads from the DuBois Protected Home Circle drove to Reynoldsville on Tuesday evening of last week and attended the meeting of the Circle at this place. Lunch was served and all enjoyed themselves.

Mrs. C. H. Chittester, of New Bethlehem, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. N. Chittester of West Reynoldsville, died Monday forenoon, January 23, 1905. Funeral at 10.00 a. m. to-day. Mr. and Mrs. N. Chittester will attend the funeral.

Mrs. M. L. Gibson and her two daughters, Mrs. M. W. Reits and Miss Hattie Hildebrand attended the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. John Hildebrand, of DuBois, who died Sunday and was buried at Falls Creek Tuesday, Jan. 24.

At the monthly meeting of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association held on Monday evening of this week thirty-one shares, $6,200, were sold at a good premium. This was the largest sale in one night ever made by this association.

George Mellinger returned Saturday from Coalport, Ky., where he had been three months surveying a railroad and locating a mine opening for the East Jellico Coal Company. Mr. Mellinger likes the climate in Kentucky, but did not enjoy and relish the eating served in that section.

The crowd of young men and boys who came from Brookville to Reynoldsville last Wednesday evening did not cover themselves with glory while here. Their conduct was unseemly, notwithstanding the fact that some of them "hold their heads high" when in their home town.

As soon as the weather permits the Reynoldsville Distilling Company will erect a large brick warehouse and a brick boiler and engine house at their plant on Fourth street. The plans have been made and Thomas E. Evans has the contract to do the work. The large boiler and engine and some of the other machinery for the distillery arrived last week.

Yesterday morning at the opening exercises of the public schools Miss Grace Beard delighted the pupils of the primary and first intermediate grades with some of her choice readings. Miss Beard is a master of her art, strong in interpretation and execution, and she has the good judgment to give readings which appeal to her audiences.

The plot of Assembly hall for the lecture of Dr. Fess next Tuesday evening will be put up at Mr. Stoke's drug store Friday morning of this week. Reserved seat tickets will be 50 cents. Public school pupils will secure reserved seat tickets for 35 cents. All arrangements for tickets will be made at the drug store. Lecture will begin at 8.00 p. m. promptly. Do not miss it.

Paul LeRoy, two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Melzer, died Thursday morning, Jan. 19, 1905, at home of parents on Fifth street. The little body was taken to Mill Creek where funeral services were held Saturday in the United church and interment was made in Eddyburn cemetery. Three Reynoldsville girls, Helena Guthrie, Etta Williams and Clara Swab, presented a beautiful bouquet of carnations.

We received a business letter from D. Lawson Reed last week dated Whittier, California, January 13, 1905, in which he says: "I presume you are hovering over your stoves to keep warm while we are opening the windows to keep cool. The weather is so fine one can hardly realize that it is January and not June. I feel certain if Lowell had been here he would have hesitated to write, 'What is so rare as a day in June?'"

Prof. Charles Scanlon, field secretary appointed by the Presbyterian General Assembly, addressed a large audience in the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church Sunday evening on the temperance question. Prof. Scanlon is scholarly and eloquent and he had no trouble in getting his audience interested and holding their close attention throughout his discourse. He handled the temperance question entirely different from what temperance lecturers usually do. He is earnest and enthusiastic in the temperance work.

Friday evening of last week Mrs. August Baldauf installed the following officers in the Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association, No. 687, of Reynoldsville: Past President, Mrs. August Baldauf; President, Mrs. P. A. Hardman; First Vice-Pres., Mrs. D. M. Bolger; Second Vice-Pres., Miss Frances O'Connor; Recording Secretary, Miss Katherine Feicht; Financial Secretary, Miss Sadie Brennan; Treasurer, Miss Mary Burgoon; Marshall, Miss Katie Fitzpatrick; Trustees, Mrs. James Degnan, Mrs. T. Schrug, Mrs. Miss Frances O'Connor.

Republican Primaries. The Republicans of Reynoldsville borough will hold primary election in each precinct voting house on Thursday, February 2, 1905, from 3.00 to 8.00 p. m.

Rural Free Delivery Routes. A government official will arrive here to-day to take a trip over two more rural free delivery routes that will likely be sent out from the Reynoldsville postoffice. One of the proposed new routes will be through Beechwoods and the other one out through Paradise.

Elocutionary Recital. A recital will be given by Miss L. Grace Beard, teacher of elocution and physical culture in the Reynoldsville Business College, in Assembly hall Feb. 24th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran. Proceeds for the benefit of the church.

In Lumber Business. James Degnan, experienced lumberman, and Francis O. Sutter have bought all the timber on the Central Land & Mining Co. lands in this section—over five hundred thousand feet. They are now putting a portable saw mill on the tract above Sandy Valley. The lumber tracts are scattered and they expect it will take two years to get the timber out.

Evangelistic Meetings. Evangelistic meetings are still in progress in the Methodist Episcopal church. Large congregations are present every evening. About twenty persons have been converted. Rev. Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of church, has been carrying on the work without any assistance. This is the third week of the special meetings and judging from the interest manifested it is not likely to be the last week.

Elks Banquet. The B. P. O. Elks third annual banquet held in their social rooms last Wednesday evening, Jan. 18, was the finest and most enjoyable banquet given by the Elks. The tables were laden with choice and well prepared edibles, reflecting much credit on the caterer, Alex. Riston. Dancing and various games were prominent amusements of the evening. Miss Grace Beard, elocutionist, was present and entertained the Elks and their guests with a number of selections. Miss Beard is a good entertainer.

Sailing the Seas. E. L. Evans, groceryman, received a letter recently from his son, Joseph S. Evans, who enlisted in U. S. Navy over a year ago, and who is now on the gun boat Castine, North Atlantic Squadron, in which Joseph gives a list of the different ports they entered from Dec. 10, 1903, to Dec. 14, 1904, and the distance between each place and number of days at sea between each point. They sailed from Philadelphia Dec. 10, 1903, and were at sea 187 days and traveled 26,269 miles before they reached Pernambuco, Port of Spain. Joseph expects to visit his parents in this place soon.

Extending Telephone Line. The Summersville Telephone Company will extend its line from Reynoldsville to Sykesville with a metallic copper system, the best system now in use. The preliminary work was done the first of this week. A large number of our business men have the Summersville phones in their offices and stores and they have felt the need for some time of having the line extended to Sykesville, and will be pleased to know that the line is to be built to our neighborhood. The Summersville Company already has orders for about fifteen phones in Sykesville.

Adam Shoe Company. The Robinson Shoe Company, one of the old and reliable shoe stores of Reynoldsville, which has been under the management of Thomas F. Adam for eight years, will hereafter be known as the Adam Shoe Company, Thomas F. Adam having bought the Robinsons interests. There will be no change in the business, excepting in the name of the firm. The Robinson Shoe Company built up a large trade by fair dealing with the public and the Adam Shoe Company will hold the trade. Thomas F. Adam is an honest and upright young man, deserving of success, and we are glad to state that he has been successful, and we believe he will continue to be successful.

Sykesville's Bank Building. The First National Bank of Sykesville expects to be in its new building in about six weeks. It is a brick building, 25 x 70, native stone and red pressed brick front. A large and substantial vault has been built in bank room with red pressed brick front. The floor of bank will be cement and steel ceiling. The bank fixtures will be antique oak. There is a large room in rear of bank for directors' meetings and private conference. Off from this room is a laboratory. On second floor are seven office rooms and a bath room. When the bank gets into its new building, the people of Sykesville will have reason to be proud of their bank, as it will certainly be up-to-date. Fred S. Maize is cashier of this bank.

REYNOLDSVILLE BANKING AND TRUST COMPANY.

New Financial Institution has Applied for a Charter and will Commence Business in a few Weeks.

The Reynoldsville Banking and Trust Co. was organized in this place on Monday, Jan. 23, with a capital of $125,000. Application will be made on the 17th of February (after the required twenty-one days notice expires) for a charter and as soon as granted the bank will be ready for business. The capital stock will all be paid in before bank opens, as ten per cent. has already been paid and 450 shares, of the par value of $100 each, have been subscribed.

The board of directors for first year are: David Wheeler, George W. Sykes, Robert Parrish, John S. Howard and Andrew Wheeler. The officers are: President, David Wheeler; Vice-President, George W. Sykes; Secretary and Treasurer, John S. Howard; Assistant Secretary and Treasurer, Robert Parrish. The Murray Bros. room, next door to postoffice, has been rented and will at once be fitted up for use of bank. Subscription papers are in the hands of George W. Sykes and Robert Parrish and all who can take one or more shares are invited to call and do so before stock is all taken. It should be a paying investment and the institution a good thing for the town and surrounding country. Every new industry helps to bring some other one. All who can give this their support in the way of stock and business are requested by the management to do so.

Gone to Allegheny City. Prof. Frank T. McClure, principal of the Reynoldsville High School, who has held that position three terms, has resigned to accept a position as Latin instructor in the Allegheny City High School at a salary of $1,200 for ten-month term. He will have five teachers under his supervision. Prof. McClure went to Allegheny City yesterday.

to take up his work in that city. Prof. McClure is a bright young man, a good instructor and was well liked by the High School pupils. They are sorry to lose him, but wish him success in his new position.

The High School pupils gave Prof. McClure a farewell reception in the I. O. O. F. hall last Friday evening. Various games were played, luncheon was served and the pupils all gave toasts after luncheon.

Prof. R. C. McCrumb, of Jamestown, Pa., teacher of mathematics in the Fredonia Institute, Mercer Co., has been hired by the Reynoldsville school board to fill the vacancy caused by Prof. McClure's resignation. Prof. McCrumb is a graduate of the class of 1899 in the Allegheny College, Meadville, and was a classmate of Prof. McClure. He has been in the school work ever since he graduated and is highly spoken of as an instructor.

"Joshua Simpkins." The "Joshua Simpkins" company with a fine brass band and splendid orchestra, will be seen at Reynoldsville opera house Friday, Jan. 27th. The play is made of fun and realism, combining the pleasing features of realistic melodrama and the ever popular rural play. The character sketches are said to be very clever, while there is an abundance of good music, singing and dancing in it. These lovable old country characters are introduced and their sayings and doings create much amusement. The company comes to us recommended as a good one throughout. The saw mill scene in the third act is said to be wonderfully realistic, a genuine circular saw being seen in motion, with Uncle Josh's son lashed to a log by the villains and started toward the glittering teeth of the rapidly revolving saw.

Prof. S. D. Fess lectured at a number of County Institutes in Pennsylvania during the fall of 1897. His style is attractive; his lectures are full of interesting historical information; and he never fails to win the ears and hearts of those who listen to him. His instruction is very helpful to those who care to know more of our history than is found in the ordinary text-books. From Nathan C. Shaeffer, Sup't Public Instruction.

Leave your orders at Barto's for carnations for McKinley Day, Jan. 29. Piano and organ tuning, repairing and cleaning done at reasonable rates. Leave address at Reynoldsville Business College.

DEATH OF L. T. WILLIAMS.

West Reynoldsville Citizen Died Sunday Afternoon and was Buried Tuesday.

Lewis Thomas Williams, a respected citizen of West Reynoldsville, died at 1.25 p. m. Sunday, January 22, 1905. Death was caused by a complication of diseases. Mr. Williams had not been well for a year, but kept at his work until the latter part of last November. He was in bed three weeks. Deceased was born near Richardsville, Jefferson Co., Pa., December 10, 1854, and was 50 years old last month. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are both dead. The mother died when Lewis was six years old and his father died a quarter of a century ago. Lewis T. Williams was married to Miss Carrie Hannold in Clarion July 7, 1880, who with three daughters and two sons survive the husband. The children are Mrs. Anna Albright, Minerva, David, Mattie and Samuel Williams. He has two brothers living, J. C. Williams, of Ridgway, former citizen of Reynoldsville, and Robert Williams in Washington state. Lewis Williams moved to West Reynoldsville six years ago last Monday. He was president of the West Reynoldsville board of health. Mr. Williams was a carpenter by trade, but for several years he had been watchman at the Enterprise Silk Company plant.

Funeral service was held at the family residence on Brown street at 2.00 p. m. yesterday, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. J. Mack, pastor of the Reynoldsville Baptist church, of which deceased was a member. Interment was made in the Reynoldsville cemetery. Twenty hours before Mr. Williams died he became grandfather, a son being born by his daughter, Mrs. H. H. H. Taylor. Deceased was a cousin of Robert S. Williams of West Reynoldsville.

ITALIAN USED KNIFE.

An Exciting Time on Sykesville Trolley Car Saturday Afternoon.

Two Italians who were visibly intoxicated got on the 4.20 p. m. trolley car for Sykesville Saturday and they soon got boisterous in the car and would not keep quiet when conductor requested them to, and the car was stopped and conductor and motorman proceeded to put the fellows off the car. In the scuffle Frank Rossa, one of the Italians, drew a large knife and cut Conductor J. M. North on right leg and Motorman W. L. Hamaker in right hand. Neither one of the men were badly cut. Rossa started to run and was followed by the conductor, motorman and a passenger and was caught and roughly handled and then put on trolley, brought back to Reynoldsville, handed over to an officer and put in lock-up. The conductor and motorman made charges of assault and battery against Rossa. He was given a hearing before Squire E. Neff and bound over to court. Rossa was kept in the lock-up until Monday noon when case was settled and he was given his liberty. It cost Rossa $75.00 to get the matter settled.

Fine Lecture.

The lecture next Tuesday evening will begin at 8.00 o'clock promptly, the doors opening at 7.15. In order to put the lecturer and meet local expenses an admission of 50 cents will be charged for reserved seats. Pupils of the public schools will be admitted for 35 cents for reserved seats. The Reynoldsville orchestra will furnish music for the occasion. All who wish to know more about our own history cannot afford to miss this opportunity of hearing Dr. Fess. Every one who hears him must be benefited by his lecture. See announcement among the locals about tickets for the evening.

"Little" Reynoldsville.

Rev. Charles H. Fitzwilliam, pastor of the Baptist church in Punxsutawney, in a sermon a week ago last Sunday spoke of that town being sadly behind in the matter of school accommodations, and in comparison said "Our school buildings are valued at $30,000, whilst Little Reynoldsville has in a few years expended $50,000 in school buildings." The "man of the cloth" had better get on the trolley and come over to Little Reynoldsville some day and size up the town so that when he refers to our town again he can speak intelligently about it.

Suicide.

You may think it suicide to sell carpets at prices offered on Feb. 6th, but we must have more room so slash the prices. If you have not the cash pay one-fourth down balance in payments; carpet delivered when payments are complete. See our ad. Hall's Furniture Store.

For Sale.

We are offering for sale our grocery business in Reynoldsville. We can convince you that we have the best location, the best retail trade and one of the best stocks of goods in the town. Satisfactory reasons for selling. STAR GROCERY CO.

Trinity Lutheran church, Rev. J. W. Myers pastor. Sunday school 9.45 a. m., preaching at 11.00 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Subject of evening discourse, "Events Following the Opening of the Seventh Seal" Service in Wishaw at 3.00 p. m.

Prof. Fess is a man of profound thought, a finished scholar and gentleman, whose personal character is something to be admired by all men. He held his large audience practically in mid-night silence—something that but few orators can do in these days.—From the Felicity Times.

Mrs. Emma Donahue and Mrs. Jennie Jones have bought a carpet loom and will receive orders for making rag carpet. Reasonable prices.

Underwear reduced at Millirens. Next Sunday is Carnation Day—McKinley Day. Leave orders at Barto's for carnations.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

A New Organization to be Instituted in Reynoldsville Feb. 5th. Sunday, February 5, Council No. 935, Knights of Columbus, a benevolent organization, will be instituted in the new I. O. O. F. hall in Reynoldsville by State Deputy J. W. Sweeney, of Philadelphia. Special trains will be run from Bradford, St. Marys and Clearfield that day and large delegations are expected to come from those towns and other towns.

A number of the charter members of the Reynoldsville Council met in the parochial school building last Sunday and elected the following officers: Grand Knight, C. F. Hoffman; Dept. Grand Knight, C. W. Flynn; Chancellor, M. J. Farrell; Treasurer, Ed. Gooder; Financial Secretary, A. C. Shannon; Chaplain, Father T. Brady; Inside Guard, Edward Newton; Outside Guard, John King; Advocate, Will Nolan; Lecturer, Edward Hardman; Trustees, Daniel Nolan, Sr., M. Phalen, T. C. McEntee.

Coming Again.

"Joshua Simpkins" will be the attraction at Reynoldsville opera house Friday, Jan. 27th. It is said to be a well written pastoral play, with an interesting plot the story being a happy blending of sunshine and shadow. The situations are said to be strikingly realistic with an overflow of fun and amusement. There are seven comedy parts in addition to that of Uncle Josh, which character is a whole show in itself. A sensational novelty is introduced in the third act in the shape of a realistic saw mill scene, in which a monster circular saw is used, and which is said to actually saw through real timber. A fine orchestra is carried by the company, also a fine band of music, which will make a burlesque parade about noon.

Dr. S. D. Fess Coming to Reynoldsville.

S. D. Fess, LL. D., of the Chicago University, will deliver his lecture on "Slavery as a Sectional Question" in Assembly hall Tuesday evening, Jan. 31. Dr. Fess was a most excellent instructor in our teachers' institute at Brookville this year as well as at that two years before. His work in history has been greatly appreciated by the teachers of this county, and in order that our teachers and citizens and the teachers of the township schools nearby may receive further benefit from Dr. Fess he has been secured to deliver this lecture next week.

Carnation Day.

Next Sunday, January 29, is McKinley Day, known throughout the country as Carnation Day. It is suggested by the trustees of the Carnation League of America that the day be observed by the churches, Y. M. C. A. and other religious organizations by having at least a portion of their services on that day appropriate to this memorial.

Prohibition Caucus.

On Thursday evening, January 20, 1905, at 7.00 o'clock at the store of D. B. & W. B. Stauffer, in West Reynoldsville, to nominate candidates for the various offices to be voted for at the February elections in West Reynoldsville borough. All citizens who favor clean politics, invited to attend.
